ENG 110 – Speech

Tuesdays/Thursdays
8:30 a.m. – 9:45 a.m.

Dr. Katherine Haynes

This course is designed to give the student an understanding of the principles of effective speech. Emphasis is placed on the preparation, content, language and delivery of speeches before an audience. Students present informative, persuasive and commemorative speeches. They learn standards to evaluate their own public speaking performances and those of others.

ENG 314 – World Literature: Novel

Tuesdays/Thursdays
8:30 a.m. – 9:45 a.m.

Sister Mary Esther, O.P.

The study of the novel is also a study in modernism. The great novelists are deeply aware of the literary tradition that spans from Homer to Shakespeare, and of how their own work interacts with and contributes to that tradition. This course focuses upon the novel's unique ability to synthesize the genres of epic, lyric, tragedy, and comedy. Possible works to be studied: Crime and Punishment; Moby Dick; The Ambassadors; Madame Bovary; Great Expectations; The Return of the Native; Emma; Portrait of the Artist as a Young Man; Lord Jim; Heart of Darkness; Go Down Moses; Song of Solomon; Possession; One Hundred Years of Solitude; and Midnight's Children.

ENG 332 – Early Modern English Literature

Mondays/Wednesdays
8:30 a.m. – 9:45 a.m.

Sister Mary Edith, O.P.

Intended to complement the Shakespeare course, this course focuses on early modern poets and playwrights whose works are not as well known, although some of Shakespeare's work is included in the course. Other authors to be considered include Thomas More, Marlowe, Jonson, Wyatt, Sydney, Spenser, Donne, Herbert, Marvell, Crashaw, Malory and Milton. A research paper is required.

HIS 336 – The United States in the Age of World Wars

Mondays/Wednesdays
12:20 p.m. – 1:35 p.m.

Dr. Vince Ryan

This course examines the period beginning with the Spanish-American War and concludes with World War II. Topics considered include the causes, conduct and aftermath of the two world wars; the social and cultural aspects of the 1920s; the Great Depression; and presidential politics leading up to and concluding with Franklin Roosevelt.

*Course dates and time are subject to change.
Current course schedule is located on the Aquinas College website.*

HIS 420 – Western Civilization and America

Tuesdays/Thursdays
1:45 p.m. – 3:00 p.m.

Dr. Vince Ryan

This course provides a detailed examination of how Western Civilization, from ancient history to present, has affected the cultural and intellectual foundations of American institutions. The format is thematic, emphasizing Western influences on American practices and traditions in areas such as religion, government, politics, economics, science and technology, law and culture.

PHI 330 – Philosophy of Education

Mondays/Wednesdays
8:30 a.m. – 9:45 a.m.

Sister Jean Marie, O.P.

This course investigates the philosophical basis of educational thought from classical to contemporary times. After first establishing the nature of philosophy, the course examines the major philosophical systems and ideologies that have shaped educational theory. The course affords students the opportunity to critique educational philosophies and to begin to develop their own. Field experience included.

THE 210 – Moral Theology

Tuesdays/Thursdays
1:45 p.m. – 3:00 p.m.

Sister Terese, O.P.

The theological and philosophical basis of Christian morality as a "call to perfection" (Matt. 5:48) is the subject of this course. In addition to the general principles of moral theology, the special fields of sexual morality and medical ethics will be investigated. Previous study of Ethics is helpful, but not necessary.

Aquinas College Mission Statement

Aquinas College is a Catholic institution of higher education in the Dominican tradition. The College directs all its efforts to the intellectual, moral, spiritual, and professional formation of the human person in wisdom. Students are formed individually and in Christian community so that the harmonious integration between faith and reason can permeate every dimension of their lives. Immersed in exploring the relationship between human civilization and the message of salvation, the College community embraces the Dominican imperative to preach the Gospel, serve others, and engage culture in truth and charity.
